

Thank you for choosing Point Village Dental for your future dental care. We understand that selecting the right dentist is an important decision affecting many aspects of your life—not just your teeth. How your dentist treats you—and your oral health—affects your smile, how you look and feel, what others think of you, aspects of your overall health, your schedule, and your well being. We look forward to meeting you on your appointment time and earning the valuable trust you've placed in us.

At your first appointment, Dr. Cal and our staff will set the stage for a caring relationship with you based on a thorough understanding of your needs by analyzing 10 structural and functional factors of your jaw joints, facial and temporal muscles, and teeth. This personalized information about your dental health will be referenced in a comprehensive approach to your care.

Unlike most dentists, Dr. Cal will approach your oral health by practicing Complete Dentistry, a concept he learned through his advanced education at The Dawson Academy. By emphasizing prevention and early detection and treatment of disease, tooth wear, and functional problems, Dr. Cal will be able to identify the signs of dental problems before any symptoms and damage appear. This will save you from experiencing pain, spending money toward costly and repeated treatments, and time off from work for multiple and lengthy appointments.

From your very first appointment, you'll notice an immediate difference in the dedicated care you receive. That's because as a graduate of The Dawson Academy—a place where dentists learn to be better dentists--Dr. Cal is one of only 10% of dentists in the country who practice the concept of Complete Dentistry. Through proper diagnosis and treatment planning, you'll be able to receive treatments in a more conservative manner, which will allow you to keep as much of your natural tooth structure as possible and help you maintain a healthy smile for your lifetime.

Again, thank you for choosing Dr. Cal and our practice for your dental care. We look forward to serving you with uncompromising integrity.
